WALK & TALK FOR MENTAL HEALTH

ANDY DEACON & MIKE FAWCETT 27 MILE MARATHON WALK

"We always go that extra mile!"

We can't thank these guys enough and have already been contacted by three individuals seeking help as a result of the awareness these two have raised. Well done guys!

£2,600

raised of £3,000 target by 124 supporters

In support of Walk & Talk for Mental Health, Andy Deacon and Mike Fawcett walked 27 miles this week... A marathon with an extra mile in memory of Elliot Hennell.

The pair met after Andy had followed Mike's videos on social media. Mike received a call out of the blue from Andy Deacon, Gloucester, England A and Barbarians rugby legend - and in less than 10 minutes they had arranged to do a marathon together.

Nigel Fawcett and Alasdair Wood kindly volunteered to be their pit crew and the day could not have been any more successful, raising a total of £2600 whilst walking and talking for 9 and a half hours!

The full story from Andy & Mike was featured on BBC Radio Gloucestershire and can be found clicking the button below.
